Why Mr. Landis Was Not Removed.

President Grant has not only a nice appreciation of humor, but on occasion is apt at repartee. During his recent vacation at Long Branch he was called to Washington on public business, and while there was handed for signature several commissions of postmasters. Tuere were also presented to him a number of petitions, among them one from citizens of Vineland, New Jersey, for the removal of Mr. Landis from the postmastership. Mr. L. It will be removal. mastership. Mr. L., it will be remembered, is the gentleman who in an infor nai and impromptu manner, "promoted" a small globe of lead into the brain of Mr. Carruth, the editor of the Vineland paper. The President asked—"Is there any irregularity in Mr. Landis' accounts?"

"Is there any irregularity in Mr. Landis' accounts?"
"Not any," replied the pleasant-voiced Postmaster General.
"Is the office well conducted?"
"No complaint on that score."
"Intemperate habits?"
"Nothing of the kind charged."
"What is the objection?"
"The petitioners say he is rather obnoxious, and that a change would be satisfactory."
"Well," replied the President, with the slightest possible twinkle at the P. M. G., "he doesn't appear to have done anything but shoot an edit"; and I don't see how I can remove him in that."

A recent statement by the American Silk Association shows that over eight million dollars' worth of raw silk is an-nually imported into this country and manufactured here, and that the amount is constantly increasing. It is claimed is constantly increasing. It is claimed that the manufacturers have attained complete success in fixing in a substantial manner dyes, either of subdued or brilliant hues, and that for novelty, chasteness of design and delicacy of shade, the American product successfully rivals goods of the same character from Europe. The next thing should be a movement in favor of the raising of this raw material at home, and thus keep that eight million deliars in our own country every year.
